EVELYN THAW DROPS SUIT

NEW YORK, May 26.—The action brought by Mrs. Evelyn Thaw to annul her marriage to Harry K. Thaw was discontinued today at the request of Mrs. Thaw's counsel. Accompanying his request for a discontinuance of the suit, Daniel O'Reilly said that Mrs. Evelyn Thaw thought that she had a right to some financial recompense for the sacrifice she had made in Thaw's behalf. Asked why a dismissal of the annulment action is desired, he said: "Mrs. Thaw wants to remain as Mrs. Harry K. Thaw."

FLOODS: Millions Destroyed Many Lives Lost Railroads Tied Up

DALLAS, Tex., May 26.—After doing damage of over one million dollars drowning at least three persons and rendering 4000 persons in Dallas homeless, the Trinity River today is falling slowly. It is believed that when the water has receded it will be found that the number of deaths will be increased.

The workmen who were carried down with the Texas and Pacific bridge yesterday have not all been accounted for. Frank Edwards lost his life last night by falling into the back-water on McKinney avenue in the heart of the residence district.

Dallas business men are raising funds to succor the distressed and homeless. The city is still without lights and water the plants being inundated. A few street cars are being operated by the power furnished by private companies. All the railroads are practically tied up, but few trains being able to enter or leave Dallas.

LOOT SAFE OF BUTCHER SHOP WHILE THERE ARE PEOPLE IN THE STORE

(SPECIAL TO THE TRIBUNE.)
SAN FRANCISCO, May 26.—A sensational daylight robbery, carefully and cunningly planned and carried through with clocklike precision was perpetrated at 1 o'clock yesterday afternoon at the butcher shop of Gassny & Luce, and $150 in gold stolen by the robbers.

Enter the Shop.

Just after the noon hour, when the proprietors and several clerks were busy in the store, and one or two customers were being served, two men entered almost simultaneously, but apparently not in company. One of them bought a telephone check and asked permission to use the phone in the back office. The second made a small purchase and then wandering

CLINTON, Ill., May 26.—Pratigality in dissipation of Colonel Snell's bank account while he was under the so-called hypnotic influence of his alleged grandniece, Maybell Snell McNamara of Kansas City, was shown today through the testimony of Frank Farrell Snell's agent at Fort Dodge, Iowa, when the celebrated man (case was re-tried).

Remarkable Extravagance.

Attorneys for the disinherited son sought to show the poor business capacity of his life and his remarkable extravagance after he had met his grandniece, Maybell in 1900.

Squandered His Money.

Although Farrell said that Colonel Snell had received $31,000 in rentals for his Iowa property had sold a portion of those lands for $41,000 during the years between 1900 and 1906 and had received large sums from rents and sales of land in Illinois he did owe Central Illinois houses a sum ranging from $2,000 to $50,000. He left nothing to show for the large sums received from the sources named.

I've spent $200 to $1000 in a single night on women, declared Colonel Snell to A. H. Cline, formerly sheriff, who was called as a witness. Snell boasted of his success in winning women and also told of his gifts to Maybell Snell.

MAY HELP EXPLAIN GALLAGHER EXPLOSION

Discovery of Dynamite Taken by Small Boys at Elmhurst

A find was made yesterday at Elmhurst which may prove of some value in clearing up the Gallagher dynamite mystery when about a dozen boys were caught by E. Magnusson, a real estate agent of that town, and a man named Rose, playing with several sticks of dynamite. The lads were using the powder as torches and running around with them utterly unconscious of the fact that they were in possession of sufficient explosive to blow-up a dozen Gallagher homes.

Half Box Dynamite.

The matter was reported to Constable Allen of the Brooklyn township who upon investigation discovered that about half a box of dynamite was missing from the storehouse of E. B. and A. L. Stone Company quarry contractors. Some action will likely be taken against the boys this afternoon.

Magnusson was on his way to his office when he encountered Rose with a stick of dynamite in his hand. "Where did you get that dynamite? Where did it come from?" asked Magnusson.

Urchins Had Explosive.

"I found some boys playing with it," answered Rose. Both of them made a search for the urchins and found them in a field, having a gala time with the powder. The sticks of dynamite were taken away from them. Dynamite was later found at the home of many of the boys' parents.

All the sticks of dynamite were given into the possession of Mr. Magnusson, and he is to retain the same in his possession until some decision is reached as to what action shall be taken to punish the boys who took the explosive.

Suit for Annulment of Marriage

Appointed Guardian of the Estate.

NEW YORK, May 26.—Whether or not Mrs. Evelyn Thaw will withdraw her suit for annulment of her marriage to Harry K. Thaw will probably be determined this afternoon when a hearing of the case is scheduled to take place before the referee in this city.

Hearings have been postponed several times at the request of counsel for both sides and Daniel O'Reilly, Mrs. Thaw's counsel, has stated that he desires more evidence before proceeding.

Rumor of Reconciliation.

Following the decision of Justice Morchauer yesterday that Thaw is insane and must be kept in an insane asylum came a report that Thaw and his wife have become reconciled, that Mrs. Thaw will withdraw her suit today and that she will ask to be appointed a committee of his estate.

Relatives Will Not Contest.

It is reported that Thaw's relatives will not contest such an appointment but Thaw has denied that he had consulted them about it.

Thaw's legal estate at present is said to consist of $2000 a year bequeathed by his father's will. The control of his father's estate is in the hands of executors.

(Special to The Tribune.)
SAN FRANCISCO, May 26.—In a fit of jealous rage, occasioned by the finding of his wife with another man, Domenico Cassella fired three shots at Raffello Banello but none of them took effect and the man was uninjured.

Suspicious Aroused.

According to the story told by Police-man J. L. Drolette, who arrested Cassella for the assault at 7 o'clock this morning and placed his name on the detainer book at the city prison, the restaurant man closed his place of business at 2:30 a. m. going straight home. He had suspected for some time that Banello was making love to his wife and was turning the events of the past month over in his mind as he opened the front door with his latch key.

Fired at Despoiler.

What was his surprise to find his alleged rival with his arms around his wife, the two apparently supremely happy. He says he ordered the man from his house, but the latter resented the interference and attempted

MORE JURORS TO BE PROVIDED FOR TRIALS

Judge Ogden Advises the Calling of Veniremen to Serve Only in Criminal Cases.

Judge F. B. Ogden of the Superior Court suggested to District Attorney Brown this morning that an entire panel of trial jurors be impaneled after January first of next year for the criminal department only.

Complaint is made that a great deal of confusion and delay has been caused by having only one panel of jurors for all the courts, probably civil and criminal, and for this reason Judge Ogden has suggested a distinct panel for criminal cases only.

District Attorney Brown is desirous of having more jurors and it is likely that steps will be taken to have a panel of jurors so that each will not have to wait for another to get through with a panel.

LUMBER IN SHIPS FOR HOGAN LUMBER CO.

The harbor front is one of the many places in Oakland where the wharves are being made in the rebuilding of this city. At the present time the wharves are lined with large boats going west and an intermingling of coasters and all of these are unloading. Some of them are discharging cargoes which are intended for consumption by the people, but the greater number of the cargoes are intended for the structural development of the city.

In these latter cargoes there is stone of many varieties, brick, structural iron, lime, cement and lumber and none of this material is allowed to remain on the wharves longer than is required to secure means to haul it away for the purpose of incorporating it in structures which are being erected in all parts of the city and the surrounding country.

Probably the most active place along the waterfront at this time is what is known as Hogan's wharf, which is situated just east of Webster street bridge. At this place there are now seven ships being unloaded rapidly as a force of men, 200 strong, can raise the lumber off their decks and out of their holds and place it on the wharf whence it is taken to other parts of the ground adjoining where are located the immense yards of the Hogan Lumber Company and the wharves which have so long been an important part in the building up of this city.

This model wharf, which was built by Mr. Hogan some months ago, is one of the largest and most capacious in the city. It has a frontage of 410 feet and a depth of 100 feet, to say nothing of the yard space by which it is surrounded.

TROLLEY LINE THROUGH INTER-COUNTY TUNNEL

Objection Made to Having Permit Act as Perpetual Franchise

Objection was made at this morning's meeting of the Board of Supervisors, to granting for an indefinite time, permission to run an electric car line through the Alameda-Contra Costa tunnel.

After considerable discussion final action was postponed until 10 o'clock next Monday morning, when all the members of the board are expected to be present. The main objection was urged to the clause in the resolution which would allow the applicants to retain possession of the tunnel for an indefinite period. It was held by Chairman Mitchell that such a provision must be construed as a perpetual franchise, and which might not prove to the best interests of the community several years hence.

Ten Years' Permit.

"My view is that the permit ought to be granted for not more than ten years," said Mr. Mitchell, "and the company that is to build the road ought to pay us, say $100,000 for the privilege. Then they ought to maintain the tunnel, keep it lighted and put in gates and a solid foundation in the floor of the tunnel. At the end of ten years everybody interested would have a better understanding of what was needed for the arrangements could be adjusted in a manner to safeguard the interests of all concerned."

Rowe Favors Free Grant.

Supervisor Rowe said that he was in favor of granting the permit without limit and without charge. He said that there is no limit or charge for use of the tunnel by farm wagons or other vehicles, and he would make the tunnel equally free for electric cars, as he was convinced that such an arrangement would be for the benefit of Oakland.

The application was made by A. W. Maltby and James Naphtaly and their associates to the county of Contra Costa to run the trolley car line through the Contra Costa section of the inter-county tunnel.

Contra Costa Takes Action.

The supervisors of Contra Costa county unanimously granted the board providing that the applicants be permitted to build the road, no time limit being mentioned, but the following provisions were added:

"That the said A. W. Maltby and Joseph Naphtaly and their successors shall observe such proper and reasonable regulations as may be imposed by this board for the keeping of said tunnel and the roadbed therein in repair, and for the maintenance of said tunnel and to have the entrance and exit of said tunnel, and lights therein, all to be hereafter agreed upon by the Board of Supervisors of Alameda county and the Board of Supervisors of Contra Costa county, and this board's request is that the grant to the Board of Supervisors of Alameda county, so far as said road pertains to the Alameda part of the tunnel, etc."

To Build Road Soon.

The applicants, joined by J. W. Stow and Wilbur Walker sent a communication to the Alameda county supervisors agreeing to begin construction of the road within nine months and to have it ready for operation from Concord to Oakland on or before December 31, 1907. They also would endeavor to secure the passage of the car line electric road over the route of the Oakland Traction Company to a point not more than six blocks from the Oakland city hall.

When the board was called to order Supervisor Horner and Bridge were not present.

Matter Discussed.

Chairman Mitchell said that no vote would be taken but the matter would be discussed. He said that he had outlined his views to Supervisor Kelley, who agreed with him in all material points, and that Supervisor Rowe went further and would vote to grant the franchise or permit without charge and without limit as to time.

Ox Teams or Trolleys.

"That is my idea, Mr. Chairman," said Mr. Rowe. "The tunnel was constructed so far as we are concerned, to bring the people and products of Contra Costa county into Oakland. It makes no difference, so far as I can see, whether we bring them in by ox teams or by trolley trains."

Chairman Mitchell said that Supervisor Horner and Bridge had nothing that they would support any movement that was reached by the other members of the Board of Supervisors. His idea was that the floor of the tunnel should be made solid and should be covered with asphalt, that a watchman at each end should be employed and that the company should be required to make all reasonable regulations made by the supervisors.

Supervisor Kelley coincided with Chairman Mitchell.

One Watchman Enough.

Supervisor Howe thought one watchman would be sufficient.

"All right, if one is enough, I'll agree to that," said Chairman Mitchell.

Promoter is Heard.

A. W. Maltby, one of the promoters of the proposed line, was invited to address the board, and he said that there are difficulties in financing such a proposition and he thought ten years would be too short a time. Investors would scrutinize the securities of such an enterprise and if any burdensome provisions should be found it would be difficult to raise the money to build the road.

"How would fifteen years do?" asked Chairman Mitchell. "It seems certain to me that the district through which your road is to pass is bound to grow rapidly and that at the end of fifteen years you will have a property of great value. We don't want to keep you out or to discourage you. We want you to come and whatever we find in for the benefit of the community we are willing to do."

Great Growth Predicted.

Mr. Maltby replied that he believed that Mr. Mitchell was right in predicting great growth in the district through which the road was to pass. He said that at present much of the country that is traversed in Contra Costa is non-productive and that it will be years before this area is much improved. He said that there is a long bridge to be built and he thought that under the circumstances the board ought to forego the proposed charge of $100,000, that all the company asks is a right of way for a term of only a few minutes every day, not one-sixteenth of the time during the life of the permit, and yet the county ought to recover from the company in ten years one-third of the cost of the tunnel.

"I think this demand for a money consideration is a point that the county can well afford to yield," said Mr. Maltby.

Land-Owners Should Help.

Chairman Mitchell said the members of the board would consider the matter and if they had property in Contra Costa county worth $10,000 I would think it well worth while to give you $1000 to help build this road and I would do it gladly," said Mr. Mitchell. "The property owners of Contra Costa county will more than double their money in five years through the building of this road."

Mr. Mitchell added that the present board would gladly consent to succeeding supervisors that the company ought to be treated liberally in the matter of extension of time.

Obstacles in the Way.

Mr. Maltby said he would be happy if the people of Contra Costa county who are to be benefited would adopt Mr. Mitchell's views, but they had found it difficult. Some land owners were trying to put obstacles in the way and were asking exorbitant prices for right of way. He asked if the district attorney had an opinion in the matter.

Chairman Mitchell replied that the district attorney had virtually said that the issue touching the number of years that ought to be placed in the permit, but that this is a matter for the members of the board to determine, since it did not come within the legal restrictions of which the advice of the district attorney is received by the board.

It was finally announced that a vote on the question would be taken at Monday's meeting of the Board of Supervisors.

NEW YORK MAY BECOME IN TIME TROPICAL CITY

NEW YORK, May 20.—That the fog which have been hanging over New York harbor and its approaches to several days greatly interfering with shipping are the forerunners of a tropical climate for New York is the opinion expressed by Captain Arthur Mills, commander of the American liner Philadelphia, which was delayed outside Sandy Hook for many hours by the fog.

"It's the gulf stream," he said, shaking his head. "The stream is getting closer to New York every year, and I expect, if I live that long, to see the gulf stream running right past our door and New York become a tropical city with an almost continual fog rolling in from the sea."

SEWING MACHINE AGENT ARRESTED BY CONSTABLE

James Kelly Armed When Officer Serves Attachment Papers.

James Kelly of 1457 Fifth street was arrested last night on a warrant issued on complaint of Constable W. H. Allen charging him with resisting an officer. Allen declares that when he went to Kelly's house to serve some papers in an attachment suit over a sewing machine he was met at the door by both Kelly and his wife, Kelly being armed with a revolver and the woman with a hatchet.

An attempt was made to serve similar papers on Kelly some months ago to recover the same sewing machine. At that time it is said, Kelly showed fight. When Kelly started to close the door in the constable's face on that occasion, the officer put his cane in the door to keep it open. Kelly came to the rescue and chopped off the cane with a hatchet after which the door was locked.

TAFT ANTICIPATED BRYAN'S PROPOSAL

Takes Wind Out of Democrat's Sails About Publishing Election Contributions by Showing Advocacy of That Idea to Senator Burrows.

WASHINGTON, May 20.—When Secretary Taft reached his office today, he found a number of newspaper men charged with inquiry as to what answer he intended to return to the invitation of W. J. Bryan to join him in an effort to secure the enactment of a bill requiring publication of campaign expenses.

The secretary replied that he had not seen any communication from Mr. Bryan on this subject and, in fact, it was several hours later before the telegram reached him, which was as follows:

Bryan's Proposition.

"I beg to suggest that, as leading candidates in our respective parties, we join in asking Congress to pass a bill requiring publication of campaign contributions prior to election. If you think best we can ask other candidates to unite with us in the request."

(Signed) Wm. J. Bryan.

Secretary Taft had meanwhile, and before he received this telegram, had a talk with the President at the White House, so that he was prepared immediately upon his return to the war department to give out for publication his answer as follows:

ADMITS HE TRIED TO MURDER HIM

Chinese Pleads Guilty to Charge of Trying to Kill Fellow Countryman.

Lo Hoy Sing, a Chinese, holds the distinction of being the only Chinese man who has ever pleaded guilty to attempting to kill a fellow countryman. Lo Hoy Sing admitted yesterday afternoon in Superior Judge Ogden's court that he had tried to murder Chin Tong Sing, a fellow countryman, who was charged with the murder of a Chinese man. It is likely that he will be deported.

Lo Hoy Sing is a simple Chinese farmer, came to the city and was banded out of his money by Tong, he claims. When he found that all his money was gone, Sing immediately resolved to get his revenge.

Attorneys for Wong Loung, who was charged with murdering a fellow countryman in a recent town war, asked for a new trial in Judge Ogden's court last night. Partial insanity was pleaded and the case was continued until next Friday for further argument.

FOR FOURTEEN YEARS THIS SUIT WAS ON

The jury in Superior Judge Harris' court returned a verdict this afternoon in favor of Mrs. Susan A. Martin against the Southern Pacific company for $50,000. The jury returned a non-suit was granted against the Southern Pacific company. The decision of the lower court was later reversed by the Supreme Court. This trial took place in Judge Harris' court and has been proceeding for the last two weeks. Since her husband's death while the suit was going on, Mrs. Martin has been married and divorced.

DANGER FROM PLAGUE IS OVER

Dr. Long Says Last Infected Rat
Was Caught April 24; Urges Further Campaign.

BERKELEY, May 26.—In a report presented this morning to the citizens' health committee Dr. John D. Long practically gives Berkeley a clean bill of health as far as the bubonic plague scare is concerned. The last infected rat was caught on April 24 and only seven infected rodents have been caught during the entire campaign. The sanitary force has made one complete inspection of the entire town and a second is now in progress. Dr. Long says that the danger from plague is comparatively slight, but he would still have continued the present strict and active sanitary campaign until the report on fleas is in. He believes that the war on the rats will be productive of good results aside from removing the danger of plague infection. He declares the rodent is a menace to mankind and calls attention to the fact that there is now an effort being made in England to have parliament appropriate a million pounds sterling for the purpose of attempting their extermination.

Difficult to Explain.

The fleas have only begun to feel the effects of the late spring, according to Dr. Long, and they may be expected to manifest themselves in great numbers very soon.

"From the best information possible, it seems to be a surprise to the residents of Oakland and Berkeley," says Dr. Long, "that the fleas do not seem to be prevalent this summer as in previous summers and springs. This is a phenomenon difficult to explain. I believe, however, that this is partly due to the sanitary efforts which have resulted in the destruction of many of their breeding spots."

Notwithstanding all the favorable indications Dr. Long does not believe the ratcatchers can be dispensed with yet. There have been placed up to date 113,173 pounds of poison and 135 rats poisoned. About $50 have been trapped, 182 nuisances abated and 10,397 premises inspected.

Continue Sanitary Work.

In conclusion, Dr. Long says: "I feel safe in stating that should the work now begun be carried on a sufficient length of time, until the city is placed in a first class sanitary condition, that the expenses after the first preliminary cleaning up, greatly diminished by the month by month work, the city is properly done Berkeley may feel safe as far as an epidemic of plague is concerned, providing a high standard of cleanliness is maintained."

GERMAN PICNICKERS ARE MAROONED WHOLE NIGHT

125 Merry-makers Stranded in Bay
by Old Scow.

ALAMEDA, May 26.—More than 125 prominent German residents from about the bay, including quite a number from Alameda, were marooned all night Sunday night and until 5 o'clock yesterday morning on the scow, Charles W., owned by Charles W. Funder, who was wrecked by his friends and fellow countrymen to join him on an excursion to El Cerrito last Sunday.

The scow was towed to El Cerrito by a tug, and Captain Plummer, commander of the tug, said that the wind was so light that the scow made little progress and by 2 o'clock in the morning had only reached Alcatraz. The anchor was dropped and the scow drifted Monday morning, when a brisk breeze set its passengers to the landing.

Many women were on the scow, and the party and the Germans whiffed away the dark hours by dance and song and made a pleasant affair out of what at first threatened to be a serious predicament.

OUTBOUND TELEGRAPH
CARS TO GO ON LOOP

BERKELEY, May 26.—According to a statement issued by General Manager Kelly of the Oakland Traction Company, the telegraph avenue cars will continue to run north on Shattuck avenue from Bancroft west and return to Oakland by the new loop line by Oxford and Dana streets.

"The double tracks will be laid on Oxford street, but it is not the intention of the company to run the telegraph avenue cars both ways on this street. It is possible that the College avenue cars will be run to the line on Allston way and Oxford street and back on the same route, thus necessitating the double tracks, but this will not mean any change in the present route of the telegraph avenue cars in running into Berkeley."

The Most Common Cause of Suffering. Rheumatism causes more pain and suffering than any other disease, for the reason that it is the most common of all ills, and it is certainly gratifying to sufferers to know that Chamberlain's Pain-Expeller will afford relief, and make rest and sleep possible. In many cases the relief from pain, which is at first temporary, has become permanent, while in old people a chronic rheumatism, often brought on by dampness and changes in the weather, a permanent cure cannot be had, but relief from pain which this Unifamous Aches is alone worth many times its cost. 25 and 50 cent sizes for sale by Osgood Drug Stores, 7th and Broadway, and 13th and Washington sts.

'THE BRIDE-ELECT' BERKELEY GETS 2

EDITH MASON, AT IDORA PARK.

Musical Comedy by Idora Opera Company Takes House
by Storm.

"The Bride-Elect," at Idora Park gives an evening of genuine pleasure. This beautiful opera was given its first presentation on the coast last night and was a real success. The audience last night was more than enthusiastic, it fairly stormed its approval and cheered, rather than applauded the efforts of singers and comedians in one of the catchiest and most entrancing musical shows ever offered the public of this community.

The big theater was filled last night and from the first rise of the curtain the audience was splendidly responsive. And as the opera was given through its three pleasing acts, the audience drank it in with utter abandon to the exquisite music and the artistic beauty of the settings. On every hand the production was pronounced the best ever given at Idora Park.

Too much praise cannot be given the members of the company. They were perfect in lines and music and the chorus was trained to great finesse. Every moment gave new evidence of the care expended in its preparation, of the painstaking efforts of Stage Director Ferris Hartman and Musical Director Paul Steindorff.

Edith Mason, a picture of beauty and faintness, was superb. She sang with her whole soul in her part and brought to her acting the finish that proved her a real artist of the operatic stage. She played the picturesque role of queen of an outlaw band and was strikingly costumed. Upon her first entrance she was greeted with long continued hand-clapping and cheering. Her performance was presented with a gorgeous bunch of American Beauty roses that testified to the esteem in which she is held. Her solos were better than ever, throughout the evening she was a delight to the audience.

So also was Ann Tasker, the sweet and pretty little singer, who only a few months ago began her career at Idora Park. Miss Tasker, too, was loaded down with flowers and five minutes after the curtain had risen on the first act she had sung a solo that fairly took the breath of the audience. Four times she was called back before the footlights. She played the part of the princess, the "Bride-Elect," and a more attractive princess it would be difficult to imagine.

Edith Mason was at his best. He was in splendid voice and sang excellently throughout the performance. In the leading comedian role Ferris Hartman was capital. Especially taking last night was his song "The Gout," which was encored so many times that the count was lost.

Charles Arling made a fine looking big-band and sang all that came to him in a strong, ringing voice that just fitted the part.

Joe Fogarty was a genuine surprise as an excellent comedian. The friends of Bernice Holmes were delighted to see her back again and all were pleased with her singing and acting of the part of the haughty queen of Capri.

Walter De Leon did not have a very large part, but there was of it he did with a fine understanding.

The opera will play to crowded houses while it holds the stage.

WIFE WHO ACCUSED
HUSBAND DISAPPEARS

Mrs. Olive Hartman, who had her husband, F. N. Hartman, arrested on a charge of assault with a deadly weapon, has left the State and is now in Illinois. It is not known why she left the state, whether because she did not desire to testify against him, or whether she was afraid to testify against him.

The trial of Hartman opened this morning in Superior Judge Melvin's court. The witness was called in an effort to secure a jury. Mrs. Hartman, who was one of the principal witnesses of the prosecution, will not be present, and the case against Hartman has been waived.

Hartman is accused of striking his wife with a stovepipe, at his home, 313 Campbell street.

Ocean View's Plan to Steal
March on Capitol Site Was Frustrated by Supervisors.

The people of Berkeley are to be given two weeks in which to formulate their objections to the proposed incorporation of Ocean View, just north of the Berkeley line as a municipality of the sixth class. As was pointed out yesterday in THE TRIBUNE's report of the proceedings of the county supervisors, this move on the part of the Ocean View people fairly opens the battle between Berkeley citizens, who are determined to vote for the annexation of the proposed capitol site, and the residents of Ocean View.

It was planned by the Ocean View residents to steal a march on Berkeley by rushing their campaign before the supervisors, but the action of that body in postponing consideration for two weeks largely nullified the advantage in the opinion of their adversaries.

The district is plotted on a map accompanying the petition extends in a narrow strip from the bay to the Contra Costa line, paralleling the northern boundaries of Berkeley. The capitol site and the desirable residence districts on which the Berkeley citizens have their eyes are east of the center of the strip. Berkeley would confine the eastern limits of Ocean View to a north and south line close to St. Joseph's academy in Peralta Park.

Nor is there entire harmony in the ranks of the residents of the proposed town of Ocean View, for the east end contingent has appointed Professor H. S. Howard of the University of California and Attorney Lawrence Kennedy to combat from an internal point the scheme to beat Berkeley.

Frank J. Roberts and C. H. Miller were active in furthering the petition filed by Ocean View yesterday.

'FULL DINNER',
THEN SENTENCEJustice Tappan Cannot Punish
Human Nuisance on Empty Stomach.

ALAMEDA, May 26.—"Now that you have pleaded guilty to disturbing the peace of numerous persons, and have openly confessed in court to such contemptible practices that it is almost inconceivable that a man should commit them, I will just postpone your case long enough to eat lunch and I want you back here in court by 1 o'clock, to receive sentence. I will certainly then give you all that is coming to you," was the startling statement made by Justice Peace Tappan to L. R. Cody, who had just pleaded guilty to disturbing the peace in the justice court this morning.

A Human Nuisance.

Cody is charged with being a public nuisance on the corner of Lincoln avenue and Park street, where he has been for several weeks, and the police claim there are a great many witnesses to testify that Cody has thrown water on old women, slapped little school children in the face, robbed fruit trees and thrown fruit at passersby; attacked and beaten Chinamen and scattered their property and laundry in the street and other petty offenses.

When Cody pleaded guilty this morning Justice Tappan restrained himself with difficulty, and openly showed his contempt for the defendant.

POISON BY MISTAKE

Mother Administers to Little Henry Ohlmeyer, Suffering From Poison Ivy, Sugar of Lead for Cream of Tartar.

HENRY OHLMAYER.

ALAMEDA, May 26.—Henry Ohlmeyer Jr., 4 years old, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Ohlmeyer, lies at the point of death at the White Cross Hospital as the result of what may turn out to be a fatal mistake on the part of his mother in giving the child a dessert-spoonful of sugar of lead, instead of cream of tartar as medicine yesterday.

Little Henry recently played for several hours among poison ivy, while in a half-dazed condition, and he has suffered terribly from the rash all over his body caused by the toxic effects of the vine.

Mrs. Ohlmeyer said last night that she had bought two bottles of medicine from a drug store, and that the clerk had advised her to give the cream of tartar to the baby, and to apply the sugar of lead locally on the rash.

Yesterday Mrs. Ohlmeyer administered a heaping dessert-spoonful of the sugar of lead, and the little Henry soon aroused the neighborhood with his agonized shrieks.

Rushed to Hospital.

The distracted mother rushed the boy to the White Cross Hospital, where Miss Gilles, the head nurse, in the absence of Dr. T. Emmet Clark, applied a stomach pump vigorously and pilled the child with emetics.

But the dose swallowed by the child was enough to kill several adults, according to the physicians, and little Henry is still in a very precarious condition.

"I gave birth to a baby during the earthquake in San Francisco, but I suffered more today, when I feared that my mistake in the medicines might end in the death of my son Henry, than I did in those trying times," said Mrs. Ohlmeyer last night.

Valued Same as Gold.
B. G. Stewart, a merchant of Cedar View, Miss., says: "I am a customer when they buy a bottle of Dr. King's New Life Pills they get the worth of that much gold in weight. It afflicts with constipation, malaria or biliousness. Sold under guarantee at Osgood Bros. drug store."

Performance Will Start
Earlier

Owing to the great length of the program at the Bell Theater this week, it has been announced by Manager Cullen that the first performance in the evening will be started earlier than usual. The curtain will go up a few minutes before 8 o'clock. There are several acts on the program that necessitate the turning down of all lights, which makes it impossible to seat patrons while these acts are on, and for this reason the management of the Bell particularly requests that the patrons of the playhouse come early. Altogether the program includes ten acts, which is two more than the Bell usually offers.

RUDOLPH SPRECKELS IS NOT DISCOURAGED, HE SAYS

Financier of Graft Prosecution Unburdens Himself

LOS ANGELES, May 26.—Rudolph Spreckels of San Francisco who is in Los Angeles as a witness in the trial of the man named Sanders, who is alleged to have forged his name for $100,000, was a guest of the executive committee of the Lincoln-Roosevelt League today and made a brief address in which he referred to the continuation of the graft prosecution in the following language:

"To assume that the people of San Francisco are discouraged by reason of the mistrial in the Ruff case would be a mistake. On the contrary, the disagreement of the jury in that case has brought to the people a full realization of the tremendous odds against which the graft prosecution is compelled to labor."

"I believe the time has come when every self-respecting man must take his stand for right and honesty in business as well as in the enforcement of the laws."

Talks About Treason.
"The man who fails to take such a stand openly, even though his friends be involved, or his personal investment be of such a nature that they will be affected by a rigid enforcement of the law, will be guilty of treason to his government, and inevitably will aid in bringing about a swift and discontent so wide-spread that it will become a menace to the government, for no government can long survive when corruption and dishonesty run riot."

'MERRY WIDOWS'

Broad-Brimmed Hats Interfere
With the Confessional,
He Says.

NEWARK, N. J., May 26.—An ethics against women wearing "Merry Widow" hats, especially when going to confession, has been issued by the Rev. Patrick J. Browne, pastor of St. Phil Neri's Catholic Church, Newark. He declared from the pulpit that the hat of some of the young women has become so large that they are unable to see the confessor, and he concluded he would have to discourage their use.

STORY OF GOLDEN FLEECE CHEERED AT YE LIBERTY

HENRY KIRK, FORMERLY OF OAKLAND, WHOSE PLAY, "THE STORY OF THE GOLDEN FLEECE," WAS PRODUCED AT YE LIBERTY THEATER LAST NIGHT FOR THE FIRST TIME IN CALIFORNIA.

Henry Kirk's Play Meets Public Favor

Unusual interest centered in the production, at Ye Liberty Theater, last night, of "The Story of the Golden Fleece." The presentation was the first which the play has received in California. Next, it was the work of a Californian, nay, more than that, an Oakland writer and actor, leading role in the piece was enacted by an Oakland woman, whose fame has become world-wide.

An Oakland Boy.

The author was Henry Kirk, a former resident of East Oakland, and the actress Nance O'Neill, whom everybody here fondly remembers as an Oakland girl. These facts, ordinarily would have guaranteed a friendly reception for the play, but regardless of all that and it was not until their judgment had been swayed in behalf of the play and performance that they were moved to applaud.

Oft-Told Tale.

The story of the Golden Fleece has often been told in verse and prose. It has also been adapted to production on the stage, but it has not often been seen there. In a certain manner, it has also been modernized to describe the advent to California of the men who arrived in "the days of old," the days of gold, the days of '49," but it is, nevertheless, not generally understood save by those who, in a greater or lesser degree, have taken an interest in fanciful tales of Grecian mythology.

Omitted Non-Essentials.

There are, however, features and details in the story of the quest too numerous to be introduced into a stage production, and the author has displayed an appreciative knowledge of the desire of the average theater audience, by omitting them.

He has skillfully eliminated many non-essentials and reduced the legend to a story of human interest, subordinating, to a great degree, the supernatural features which play so important a part in the tale as told by the chroniclers of old.

A Great Success.

It may be said that the production of the piece, more especially in view of the fact that it was the first performance of the week, was in every respect a success.

As to the play itself, the verdict of the audience was that Mr. Kirk had succeeded admirably in his effort to condense the story in dramatic form and that he had given to imaginary characters an existence and endowed them with the weaknesses, the graces, the passions and the virtues of the people one meets in every day life.

Graceful Phrasing.

In stage productions of stories of this kind, custom, long observed, has demanded that the language of the characters shall be dignified and high sounding. To this demand, there has been a willing assent by the public. The reason is obvious. Commonplace utterances under the circumstances, would simply be suggestive of burlesque.

Mr. Kirk, however, has not gone to the extreme in the elevated character of the sentiments to which his characters give expression or in the words which he employs in the expression of those sentiments. He has adopted a happy mean between both extremes with the result that there is nothing of stately frigidity in the lines. On the contrary, many of them are warm with human sympathy and human nature and sparkle with richness of imagery and poetry.

The Golden Fleece.

It is not necessary here to detail the story of the golden fleece. In a general way, almost every school boy and girl at the present time and those who long have been out of school, know that Jason, who was denied his right to a throne by an unfeeling uncle, set out to secure the fleece of the golden ram, to show that he had in him the stuff of which, it was believed, those who occupied thrones at the time should be made. The fleece was guarded in a manner which would cause a heart less stout than that of Jason to quail.

Falls in Love.

While in his quest for the fleece in Calchis, Jason falls in love with the Princess Medea, the daughter of King Aletes of Calchis, a sorceress, who returns his ardent love with a passion more intense than that even of the impulsive suitor. Without having inspired passion in her breast, futile, it may be presumed, would have been Jason's attempt to secure the golden guerdon, because that achievement was accomplished only by the charms with which Medea had invested him and which rendered him superior to any of the monsters with which he had to contend in his dangerous enterprise. These charms, the invulnerability and the death-dealing power he possessed, would never have been his had not the heart of the fair sorceress been touched.

Deserted.

Medea showed her love in other ways, but Jason leaves, deserts the one who had made him famous and goes to Corinth. There he fights for the King, Creon, and is successful in his wars. Creon is grateful and gives him in marriage the hand of his daughter, Princess Glauke. Jason, regardless of the high-mindedness which is supposed to have dominated him in his aspirations to a throne and his capture of the fleece, forgets Medea, until the deserted woman appears before the temple of Diana in Corinth on the day the king proclaims the forthcoming nuptials of Jason and Glauke.

Following the desertion a spirit of dejection has taken possession of the heroine, though hope is revived when she learns that Jason is in Corinth and that she will soon meet him again.

The meeting reveals the fact that Medea no longer has a place in the affection of the hero and this discovery comes with crushing effect upon the heroine.

Great Climax.

This meeting is the climax of the play and is closed with the tragedy in which Medea mercilessly revenges herself upon her recreant spouse by causing Jason's newly-found bride to wither into nothingness, by the death of his and her children whom Jason clamored for after Glauke had been destroyed and by depriving Jason himself of his sight.

It may be said that there was no scene in the play in which Miss O'Neill was not equal to the trying demands made upon her by the lines. As the enamored maiden she was tender, devoted and passionate. In her anger and revenge she was majestic and overpowering. Indeed, she recalled the stately Cushman in the intensity of some of her moods. In the crucial scene, where Medea learns that she has loved but to be spurned, Miss O'Neill displayed the hopelessness of a broken heart in sobs of melancholy which caused thrills of sympathetic sadness throughout the audience.

Landers Stevens played Jason. The role suited him in every respect. It is of the heroic order and Mr. Stevens never fails to make all that may be desired by an audience out of such a role. His work was excellent and he was applauded throughout.

The heroic character of Jason, however, is allowed to drop for a moment toward the close, where he is compelled to go to Medea after the latter has sorely afflicted him, to ask for his children, little ones whom he has deserted and to whom he paid no attention when Medea sought him out with her offerings which had claim upon him. This was a dropping of the character to the commonplace, and the inconsistency caused not a few people in the seats to smile, audibly at the tardy remorse of the fickle hero.

There was nothing added to the effect of the piece either by putting words of reprobation of Jason, the father, in the mouth of the almost baby son of Medea. It would have been appropriate in melodrama, but it became a commonplace in the legend of the Golden Fleece.

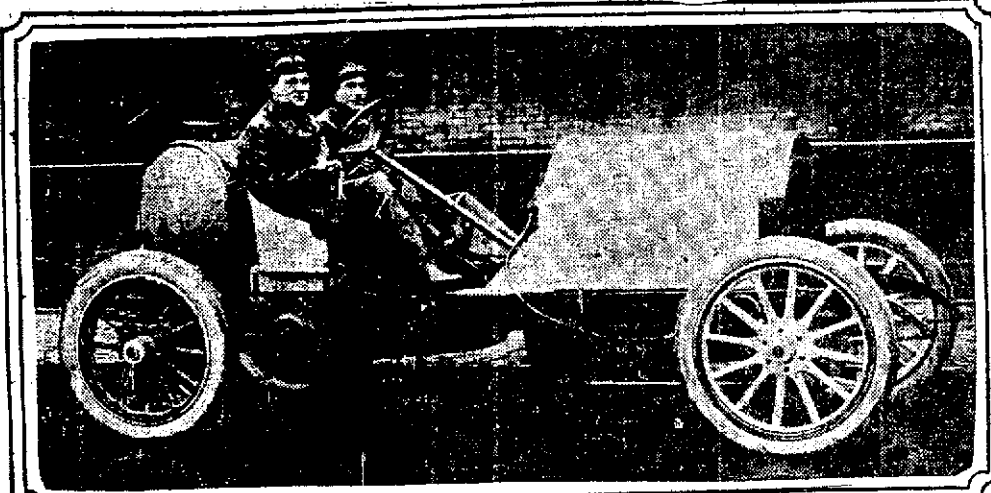

Henry Schumier, E. L. Bennison, Henry C. Mortimer, Miss Blanche Douglass and indeed all the members of the cast, acted well their several parts.

Many Races For Decoration Day

LOUIS STRANGE—THOMAS CAR.

Local and Los Angeles motorists will race on Saturday and a one-hundred mile race on Sunday.

The Rubber Men's picnic held in Los Angeles Saturday, was the greatest ever, as reported by those attending, and just to prove that they were good fellows and not a bit "tight," these generous motorists, invited the local automobile dealers to join them and this resulted in one of the greatest ball games ever scored in Los Angeles, as it stood 17 to 7 in favor of the auto men. Much credit was however, to the pitcher for the auto men's side, who happened to be George Barnes, the Haynes man, who is a veteran in the baseball line as well as high ball stunts, (proved after the game), and certainly did things to the rubber men's representative. A fat man's race was won by H. C. Hendon, and the slim man's race belonged to Frank Harris. Bill Anson, the Goodrich man, won the pie-eating contest which was of course, in a rubber man's class, of elastic classification. Jim Jefferies boxed three rounds with Cline and no real fight could have been in it with this burlesque Jim.

The decision, and several drinks. Residents around Santa Monica canyon, where the affair took place, say Buffalo Bill's circus was tame compared with the realistic acts of the day's entertainment.

The San Francisco Dealers Association have received so far nine entries for the twenty-four hour endurance run, to be held Sunday, over the San Leandro and Mission San Jose course. Chairman Howard says there will be at least fifteen cars entered by the time the entry list is closed.

One of the cars to be entered in the hundred mile race held at Los Angeles on Sunday next, is the new forty horsepower Haynes Hickler. George Barnes, special representative of the Haynes factory at Kokomo, will pilot this new output of the Haynes, which is expected to do things in the racing line.

Entry blanks for the women's endurance run to be held June 20th, between Oakland and San Jose, may be obtained at the local agencies in Oakland and San Francisco next Saturday. Five applications have so far been sent in by letter and telephone, among which are two White steamers and a seven passenger Packard.

THE TRIBUNE intends giving the orphans of Oakland an automobile outing sometime during the coming month.

The greatest event taking place on Decoration Day in the East is the great Wilkes-Barre hill climb in Giant's Despair. Entries so far include a Stearns, an Oldsmobile, two Mitchells, two Pennsylvanias, three Autocars, a German Benz, a Stoddard-Dayton, an Apperson, two Frayer-Millers, a Ford and a Chadwick Six. This annual hill climb at Wilkes-Barre, is of rare importance and interest to the entire automobile public, and watched alike by manufacturer and individual.

HERE'S something you folks haven't thought about!

—You haven't thought of how much one of these Broadmoor lots will jump in value the minute a $4000 or $5000 house is put up next to it!

—In other words you haven't thought of Broadmoor as an investment. You've said, "Oh, yes, Broadmoor is all very well if you have the coin to build, but I can't afford to build right now."

—Then get in on the best investment proposition open in California today!

—These are strong words, but they state a fact, and if you'll read on we'll prove it. And we'll show you also what can be done with $200 or $300.

—In the first place, most of the purchasers of Broadmoor will buy to build at once. In fact, at least $50,000 worth of building will start in Broadmoor within 60 days, for many of the owners of lots will hardly be able to wait for their homes to go up.

—Why, only yesterday the President of one of the largest corporations in San Francisco came to us to learn more about Broadmoor—We took him out in an auto and when he saw what we had he was wild with enthusiasm; he said he was going to buy an acre in Broadmoor and build a $5000 bungalow, even if he had to sacrifice his present home to do so.

—We have heard of at least a dozen men who say they are going to build the minute we'll give them a deed to a lot, and there must be scores of others waiting for opening day with the same idea in view.

—Now, Mister Man with $200, what does this all mean to you? What would it mean to you if you snapped up a choice half acre of Broadmoor ground along the main Boulevard and somebody put up a $5000 house right next to your lot?

—Would your lot increase in value?

—Would it be a good investment if within 3 months you doubled your money?

—Well, you can do it, old man—They did it on the Santa Fe Tracts; and we opened them up. They did it in Elmwood Park, and we opened up Elmwood Park. Our clients have made big money on every proposition we ever launched and every tract we ever put upon the market developed exactly as we said, it would develop.

—We say Broadmoor will be a grouping of magnificent country homes, owned by men of moderate means, kept up in elegant style. That it will outclass any country neighborhood in Central California in the grandeur of its environment and the splendor of its homes.

—And if what we say is so, why, then, can anyone afford to stand back because he hasn't a lot of money?

—Why shouldn't the man with $200 or $300 stand side by side with those who fortunately right now are able to build?

—Why isn't Broadmoor a good investment proposition as well as a good residential proposition?

—Look here, folks! Suppose you bought a half acre in Broadmoor as we suggest; suppose you paid $200 down on it and the rest at $20 a month and ran along for 3 months. That would figure $260 cash paid in—And then suppose one of those fine bungalows went up right next to you (we can tell you who your neighbors will be before you buy and what they figure on doing)—Don't you think you'd be making mighty small profit if you only doubled your money?

—You know we are going to give away $15,000 in cash just to get people to build at once—and you know that building restrictions are strict—and you know that most people who buy an acre in Broadmoor will buy it to live on.

—You know that, old man, for it is a fact so self-evident that it hardly needs emphasis.

—So make up your mind that you'll at least look into the proposition next Saturday—It's business to investigate these things—you've saved your money to make money with it, haven't you?

—Then get in on the ground floor of Broadmoor—take quick advantage of the situation—A couple of hundred dollars will swing it.

—Tomorrow night we will tell you how to get a thousand dollars in gold.

Roosevelt Condemns Heney.

Francis J. Heney is so morally obtuse that he cannot realize that every time he parades his contract witnesses, hoodling scoundrels immune from punishment by grace of Rudolph Spreckels, he affronts the public sense of decency and presents an object lesson, the teaching of which cannot be misinterpreted. However, he professes to take President Roosevelt as a guide in his criminal prosecutions.

When the Mormon leaders set up the doctrine of polygamy they justified themselves with the fiction that Jesus was a polygamist and that Martha and Mary were his wives.

The first commandment in Roosevelt's rule of conduct is "Give every man a square deal."

Heney has never given anybody a square deal. He is not only unfair, but he is viciously and maliciously unfair. Alliances with criminals are the bases of all his prosecutions. He picks out a few victims for sacrifice and arrays against them a gang of scoundrels whose guilt is beyond question. He attempts to resolve the guilt or innocence of men of repute with testimony bought by immunity contracts. Yet he pretends that President Roosevelt would sanction such business. Fortunately the President has placed himself unequivocally on record on this very question. In the course of his address at the Charleston Exposition, April 9, 1902, he said:

"Above all, the administration of the government, the enforcement of the laws, must be fair and honest. The laws are not to be administered either in the interest of the poor man or in the interest of the rich man. They are simply to be administered justly; in the interest of justice to each man, be he rich or be he poor—giving immunity to no violator, whatever form the violation may assume. Such is the obligation which every public servant takes, and to it he must be true under penalty of forfeiting the respect both of himself and of his fellows."

These words from President Roosevelt embody a scathing indictment of Heney and his methods. Have the laws been fairly and honestly administered in the so-called graft prosecutions? Have they been applied justly without reference to the wealth and standing of the accused?

Everybody knows to the contrary. Immunity to notorious official criminals, which the President trenchantly denounced, has gone hand in hand with a form of prosecution that has assumed the sinister phase of persecution carried on by inflammatory appeals to popular passion and prejudice, by methods strongly suggestive of conspiracy and by proceedings in and out of court calculated to destroy confidence in our system of administering justice. Class prejudice has been artfully arrayed against the rich as a justification for suborning testimony against them and granting immunity to abandoned wretches who went into office poor and employed the powers lodged in them to extort bribes and blackmail.

Heney has tried his cases on the stump, in churches and in the newspapers, using falsehood and vilification as his weapons. He has endeavored to browbeat witnesses and jurors into doing his will, and has openly assailed the higher courts for refusing to sanction his flagrant violations of the law.

President Roosevelt has declared that the law must be administered fairly and justly, and that immunity should be granted to no violator of the law. Heney's whole course of action has been in flagrant, contemptuous violation of the maxims laid down by the President. Consequently he has failed. He pretends to be shocked that a jury refused to convict Abe Ruef on the testimony of thieves and perjurers. Why should he be? Did he not first grant immunity to that same Abe Ruef in a disgraceful secret bargain in which compounding felony ran strangely in the direction of subornation of perjury.

The Compensations of Drouth.

Drouth in California is not an unmixed evil. One of its compensations is a more active interest in irrigation and the adoption of tillage methods better adapted to the prevailing climatic conditions. It also stimulates crop diversification and a closer study of the conditions of plant life in this State.

But drouth renders a positive service by stimulating irrigation. Each dry season is followed by still greater areas being placed under ditch, and by a further abandonment of antiquated methods brought from the Atlantic States in early days. Vast tracts in the San Joaquin and Sacramento valleys are now being subdivided and placed under irrigation as a direct result of the unseasonable or insufficient rains during the past few years. The old method of grain farming has impoverished the land in many counties—that is, for crops such as can be grown without irrigation. In such places drouth has given enforced rest to the land and tended to break up the evil of land monopoly. Nature has called a halt on an improvident and unprogressive system of agriculture which wastes the soil and thrusts back the tide of settlement.

Recurrent dry seasons have compelled an advance in several directions, the most notable of which are more scientific methods of tillage, smaller farms, crop diversification, larger production and irrigation. The last promotes all the others. Irrigation is a form of insurance against drouth. It adds to the fertility of the soil instead of wasting it, and it brings in its train intensive farming and new methods of tillage. In the nature of things the small farm tilled mainly by its owner and family is the logical result of irrigation. A denser resident population and higher order of intelligence in the pursuit of agriculture result. Better roads and schools and a more cultivated society follow with the changed order, which induces certainty of crops and an immense increase in variety and extent of production.

So that the misfortune of drouth is a lesson in the school of adversity that leads to higher and better things, a more prosperous condition and a more progressive civilization. The lesson is fortunately being taken to heart all over California, hence the regions most afflicted by dry seasons and intermittent rains are being transformed into vast gardens, where industry and plenty reign and crop failure is unknown.

B. F. Scott, Driving Big Horse,
Run Into by William Colder
With Cart and Pony.

ALAMEDA, May 26.—As the result of a peculiar runaway accident, in which B. F. Scott, 1904 Encinal avenue, was thrown from a buggy, which ran over him, Scott narrowly escaped death under the hoofs of a horse at noon today.

Collision With Pony.
Scott was driving a large iron gray horse hitched to a stage wagon on Central avenue and was about to turn across Park street to stop and hitch his horse, when William Colder, proprietor of the Club stables, drove up in a small cart, to which a little Shetland pony was hitched and run into the heavy survey at right angles.

The shaft of the little cart caught the wheel of the survey stopping Scott's horse with a short jerk. One tug on Scott's horse broke and the other tug slipped off.

Big Horse Ran Away.
The big iron gray ran away with the survey continuing until his harness had come off and until he struck the sidewalk and threw out Scott. The survey went over Scott, who was stunned and unable to get out of the way before the pony had also run over him.

Witnesses to the accident say that Scott had a wonderful escape. Scott claims that Colder was to blame.

Woman Owns Cart.
The pony and cart driven by Colder are owned by Mrs. Louis E. Spear, a well known society woman, living on Sherman street. Colder was supposed to be exercising the pony at the time the runaway occurred.

WELL-KNOWN CLUBMAN
GETS INTO WRONG ROOM

SAN FRANCISCO, May 26.—Dr. Albert Abrams was the most surprised man in the world last night, when, entering his apartment at the Fairmont, he discovered lying asleep on his bed Edward Barron, prominent social favorite and clubman. Barron was surprised and indignant when he was lifted roughly from the couch of ease and thrust into the corridor of the hotel. A full lobby stood up in wonder as the gallant, young man, hatless and disheveled, moved for the swinging doors of the hotel with a house detective and indignant physician in close pursuit.

How or why Barron got into Dr. Abrams' rooms is a mystery. He did not stop to explain. Dr. Abrams does not understand it. In fact, the physician said last night that he had never before been introduced to the young clubman.

Grand Army Men and Board of Education Clash Over Memorial Day Observance.

The G. A. R. and the Board of Education have not been able to agree concerning the part the school children will take in the Memorial Day services. There has been some dissent between the members of Lyon Post and the members of Appomattox, Joe Hooker and Lookout Mountain and they will not unite their services.

Strewing Flowers.
It has been the custom to have five or ten children from each school strew flowers over the graves and sing "America," but because of the disagreement among themselves the Board of Education refuses to take any hand in the matter. The veterans have, therefore, sent out invitations to the schools on their own account.

A meeting was held last night at 827 Broadway to discuss the arrangements for Memorial Day. The usual exercises will be held at Mountain View Cemetery by the Joe Hooker Post, Lookout Mountain Post and Appomattox Corps at 11 a. m. The Lyon Post will hold short services there at 3 p. m. and at Evergreen Cemetery at 3 p. m.

Arrangements Not Complete.

The arrangements of the exercises have not yet been completed. There will be original music read in honor of the occasion and martial music played. The Ladies' Relief Society of the G. A. R. and the Sons of Veterans will take part in the ceremonies and flowers will be strewn over the graves.

The plans are in the hands of a committee appointed from the different corps.

WATER RATES IN HOT DISCUSSION

Spring Valley Cannot Make Improvements Under the Old Charges.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 26.—The superintendents of the city water department will hold a special meeting Thursday for the purpose of discussing the rates which people shall pay for water the next fiscal year. This is one of the vexed subjects of the administration and it is of the utmost importance to the community. The special committee of the Board of Supervisors favors the adoption of rates of 2007, with the increase of $77,000 for hydrant service.

Commercial Bodies.

The representatives of the Merchants' Association, which organization has given the subject a great deal of attention, has taken the ground that the rates of 1907 will not permit any improvements to be made by the Spring Valley Company and go farther and say that, unless improvements are made which will enable the company to secure a greater supply of water in a less expensive manner, there is liable to be a water famine.

Other commercial bodies and the Fire Underwriters take practically the same ground.

President A. H. Payson of the water company in question holds in about the same manner. He declares that there is a likelihood of the reserve becoming exhausted for the reason that the daily amount of supply is only about 35,000,000 gallons. On two days in the last three weeks, Payson says that more than the maximum supply was consumed. The operating expenses and the taxes of the company would be increased by $24,000 more than they were in 1902, and yet the superintendents, he says, had made no provisions to enable the company to meet them.

The conference adjourned shortly before 2 o'clock with the understanding that another meeting would be held later in the day.

From admissions made by members of the conference it is understood that while no positive agreement was reached, there was general acceptance on the part of the conferees of the plan for compromise between the Aldrich and reiland bills, which was outlined yesterday and which provides for the issuance of emergency currency alternately under the reiland and Aldrich plans.

PHELAN BOOKED FOR SUPERVISOR

George A. Connolly Succeeds W. G. Stafford in Law-Making Body of San Francisco.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 26.—George A. Connolly, a lawyer, thirty-six years of age, has been appointed to succeed William G. Stafford as a member of the Board of Supervisors.

Among politicians it is believed that Lippman Sachs will soon leave the board and that former Mayor James D. Phelan will be appointed in his place. Mr. Sachs is traveling in Europe and it is believed that he placed his resignation in the hands of Mayor Taylor before his departure to be accepted at any time the mayor saw fit.

Connolly, the new supervisor, is a graduate of St. Ignatius College, and well known among the younger attorneys of the community. He is ex-president of the San Francisco Council of the Knights of Columbus, of which order he has also served several terms as state deputy.

Politically the new supervisor is a Democrat, but in the last municipal campaign served as president of the Nonpartisan League, the purpose of which was the support of Taylor. "I consider my appointment a great honor," said Connolly, "and I shall strive to fill it with credit. I favor the bond issue, and everything that tends to help the city. The only pledge the mayor asked of me was the exercise of my best judgment guided by my conscience."

A NOVELTY IN WEDDINGS
WELL I GUESS SO?

SPRINGFIELD, Ohio, May 26. — Standings on a platform built in the treetops thirty-four feet from the ground, and with a carpet of violets, Miss Carrie Holman and Jacob McKee were united in marriage last evening at the Steinger farm, near Springfield, by the Rev. A. W. Leonard of this city. The couple rode to the grove on horseback, with dogwood blossoms

By sleeping there winter and summer he has cured himself of tuberculosis.

$40,000 YEARLY Is Amount Mrs. Ogden
Armour Is Supposed To Spend

Mrs. Ogden Armour, considered as Chicago's best tailored woman, declares that she never is without two dark blue tailored suits made alike. Dark blue, according to Mrs. Armour, is the only really correct color for morning wear. Besides her tailored morning suits she has suits and suits of every description, and each one, it is said, has its counterpart.

When Mrs. Armour has her summer wardrobe made nearly every dress is duplicated for it is her pleasure to be always fresh and clean, and she is not a woman who cares for much frill or frivolity. She selects certain styles—two or three—and clings to them. It is a peculiarity all her own that she always wears a gown which has paid more than one visit to the cleaner. It is much more to her taste to wear a dress until it is soiled and then replace it by a fresh one made on the same plan.

One of the most picturesque women in the city is Mrs. Walter Kelch, 303 North La Salle street, who is a tailor. She is a remarkably graceful woman and chooses her dresses with a vigilant eye for effect. Long lines, and elaborate, loosely flowing draperies are for her. Mrs. Kelch is another who goes in for duplicates. Her spring wardrobe has duplicated all the way through. Even her hats, it is said, have their counterparts. Her shoes of which she has an abundance, are all duplicated.

Sheath-Gowns Europe's Sensation

FASHION OF THE DIRECTOIRE PERIOD IN FRANCE, 1795.

Ever since the announcement of the appearance in Paris of modern reproductions of the Directoire gown Chicagoans have been vaguely curious about the fashions of the period in which these thrillers were invented. But when it was learned yesterday through The Tribune that the latest and most extreme thing in dress is in the city ready to be sprung upon the public as soon as certain women screw their courage to the sticking point, the curiosity was crystallized in a rush for book stores and libraries, where memories of the Directoire gowns might be refreshed. The picture of the willowy ladies of the old France reproduced above, however, are said to give but an idea of the possibilities of the style in the hands of modern ladies' tailors. The modern Parisian product is said to cling in an even closer sheath around the body and limbs, and an added zest is given by cutting the skirt on each side from the ankle to the knee. Whether this slit shall give glimpses to openwork hose or shall give glimpses of openwork hose of a sort to propriety in the shape of "trowsers" is said to be a matter of individual taste.

WEST TO BE SHOCKED Directoire Gowns
To Invade Chicago

CHICAGO—The Directoire gown that has been shocking the police and creating general havoc in Paris and London is headed for Chicago—may, it already has arrived. Two specimens of the garment, one style and one to be concealed "in our midst," the owners not having had sufficient courage to wear them in public. It is opined by the persons who build clothes for women in Chicago that the Directoire gown is destined to become the rage in this city, though it will take time. About next fall when the tourists return from abroad it will be nothing but Directoire gowns they say.

Richard Polak, proprietor of a women's tailoring establishment at 1551 Michigan avenue, is an enthusiast over the new style. But he is disappointed by the seeming hesitancy of Chicago women in donning the garment.

"I have made two of them within the last month for two women of Chicago who are most exquisite dressers," said Polak. "They always wear the latest and most artistic creations. I made them Directoire gowns that were beautiful. I sent them to their homes. Then I heard nothing. I listened, but I heard nothing. So I telephoned to one of the women and asked how she liked her Directoire gown. She said she liked it, but she has not worn it outside of her boudoir. She admits she dropped her nerve at the last moment."

"Then I telephoned the other woman and asked her how she liked the gown. She liked it all right, but her husband, I believe, does not. But they will wear them yet—these women. All of them will be wearing Directoire gowns next fall after they get home from Europe and know that they are all the rage over there. It always takes time in Chicago, but after that—O, my!"

Polak consented to describe the Directoire gown. "It is simple," he said. "The gown is

Has Two Brides Gives Each the Cold Shoulder
But Takes
Their Dowries

Max Mendelson, an itinerant carpenter of the East Side, is a guy Lothario and Samuel Gold is his ally. Max loves the ladies and Samuel is a schemer, or matchmaker. They have made a great team, and in but a few weeks have received as dowries from two too trusting maidens $300.

Lena Kalich of 27 St. Mark's place, and Pauline Goldman of No. 34 Scott street appeared in the Essex Market court as complainants against Jacobs. From their stories it appeared that Jacobs had introduced Mendelson to the pretty young women, stating that he loved each and that betrothals had speedily been arranged. But Mendelson had needed money. Miss Kalich gave him $100 and Miss Goldman presented him with a bank book for $200, made out to them jointly. Mendelson promptly disappeared with the money. Then the fitted girls, neither of whom was aware of the other's existence, visited the same lawyer, and Jacobs was summoned to appear in court. He vowed that he was innocent of any wrong-doing, but the judge told him to dig up the $300 which his client had obtained.

"I have no antipathy to a professional matchmaker," said his Honor, "but I think you went the limit when you tried to make Mendelson a Mormon. I'll give you one week to get the money from him or somewhere else."

Jacobs admitted having received a commission from Mendelson for his good work and that he had arranged both betrothals. In the case of Miss Goldman, Mendelson became engaged to her within a week after having met her, a betrothal party was given and the wedding was to have taken place in another week. The girls are not really broken-hearted over the loss of their money, but feel the absence of the money. They both vow that they will arrange their own marriages in the future or remain single.

Women of Fashion
Seek Duplicates
in Dress

The modern society woman has a fad for duplicates in dress, and no matter how plain or elaborate a gown may be she is sure to have a duplicate for it. Many, to whom dressmaking is a delight and money but a minor consideration, have three and even four dresses which are exact counterparts of each other. Sometimes there is the slightest variation in the trimming or a different touch of color introduced in one of the other, but usually they are so nearly alike that the casual observer can detect no difference.

Woman Station-Master

Though in almost every phase of the industrial life of the nation women are to be found competing with the sterner sex in the busy and bustling of daily existence, Whippaham, a picturesque little Isle of Wight village, is probably unique in having a woman station-master. For just twenty years this station has been in the entire charge of Mrs. Morwood, a lady in whom the company has the utmost confidence.

MONEY WHEN HE BECAME ENGAGED - - - $2,145.39
COST OF PREPARING FOR WEDDING - - - 2,145.00
MONEY ON HAND WHEN HE ENDED LIFE - - - .39

NEW YORK, May 26.—The real reason Isaac F. Williams, a broker, committed suicide while his fiancée was waiting to wed him at the cathedral of St. John the Divine was that his marriage expenses footed up to $2,145, while he had exactly thirty-nine cents.

Williams had made every arrangement for his marriage to Miss Mary Arnold, daughter of Mrs. Elizabeth Arnold, of 502 West One Hundred and Thirtieth street, and had planned to meet her at the entrance of the crypt just before 1 o'clock. When he did not appear, H. I. Arnold, a brother of the bride, called on Williams' home and learned that he had taken his life.

Returning to his sister, Arnold told her Williams had broken his leg and the ceremony would have to be postponed. This announcement was made to the friends present, but the bride demanded that she be taken to his side. She was induced to return to her mother's home, where later she was told the truth, and she was prostrated with grief.

Williams had lived in an apartment in the home of Dr. William L. Stowell, No. 180 West Seventy-third street, for the last three months, but he did not know his private affairs and Dr. Stowell knew little about him. He had learned, however, that Mr. Williams was to be married, but did not know the wedding had been planned for Saturday afternoon until after Williams had shot himself.

MEN Urged to Learn Help
Their Offspring in the Cradle.

PHILADELPHIA, May 26.—Clouds of smoke issued from the Roosevelt, where the Philadelphia Mothers' Club held its annual banquet. The maternal element, to which all look for advice on spanking and spoiling children, had not taken to the wood, as one might at first fear, but the fathers who accompanied the mothers solaced themselves between toasts with cigars. True, the daring papas struck their matches and puffed their fragrant weeds in the hall outside the dining room, some of them acting like naughty schoolboys who have sneaked behind the barn for their first smoke.

It was the mother's first experiment in inveigling their better-halves into attending one of their functions, but it worked like magic. Father families were told he ought to be just as much interested in the proper upbringing of children as the mother; that he had shirked his duties as monitor and official representative long enough; and that it was about time he woke up and learned a thing or two about his own offspring. The result of these certain lectures was that there were as many men

INDIAN WIFE IS THE REAL AND MOTHER OF THE WIGWAM

The Seminole woman is a devoted mother and wife, and her position in the life of the tribe is of considerable importance, says Harriet Quimby in Leslie's Weekly. She is the boss of her wigwam, and on many questions of tribal import she is consulted. If she finds it necessary to her happiness and peace of mind to obtain a divorce from her brave she is permitted to do so without disgrace, and her children are invariably awarded to her. In return for these privileges the Seminole woman is unusually patriotic. She not only maintains the highest possible moral standard for her people, but she excludes outsiders entirely. Any young squaw who allows her heart to stray to a white man, and to allow that straying to be known, is subject to death. There is a legend to the effect that one such case occurred, and that the guilty squaw was found one day hanging to a tree, where all the women of the tribe had helped to hang her. The cherishing of the women is said to come from a desire to preserve the race, and as marriages outside of the tribe are not allowed and marriages in the tribe are governed by a strict law of gens, the women, young and old, are cherished as carefully as are white women, and the behavior of the Seminole brave differs considerably in this regard from that of the braves in other tribes where women are more numerous.

CATS ARE HYPOCRITES
Declare Savants

CHICAGO, May 26.—Inspired by the dispute concerning the worth of the cat, another man has come out to denounce the animal as a pest and to propose a new remedy for its evil acts. E. E. Hand, professor of zoology in the Wendell Phillips High School, declared yesterday that the cat is a great national nuisance and lawbreaker. Furthermore, he says that he is upheld in his position by the investigations of the biological survey of the department of agriculture and by all zoological authorities.

"The cat is a public pest," said Prof. Hand. "They are a menace to health, scattering fleas and disease. The cat is a parasite, lazy, spiteful and capricious. The members of the class immediately brought in six native cats that had been killed by cats. 'In my opinion the owner of a cat that kills a songbird should be prosecuted and fined just as is the man who goes out with a dog and kills them. The cat that is kept as a family pet, well taken care of, and confined to the home may be allowable. But for the great horde of cats that through our alleys, killing birds, spreading disease, and keeping us awake at night, I can see no excuse. 'If either the cats or the birds must go let it be the cats. With their hypocritical pretenses done away with we may be able to get down to and solve the rat problem. This is no small matter, for government researches have shown that rats cause the United States an annual loss of about $55,000,000.'

The permission was granted and the ceremony was performed under the great picture of the surrender of Cornwallis. Hundreds of visitors were in the rotunda at the time, and enjoyed the unique proceedings.

ONE WORKMAN WOUNDED IN HIP Others Ran for Their Life

While bordering on nervous collapse and ill to the point of death from an affliction of the heart, George W. Schmitt, senior member of the Schmitt Heating and Ventilating Company, living at 1180 East Fourteenth street, weakly rose from his bed at 4 o'clock this morning and fired a pistol shot into the midst of a number of employees, who were laying pipe for the People's Water Company at East Fourteenth street and Twenty-third avenue.

The bullet struck J. W. McFarland, a night watchman, in the fleshy part of the hip, painfully injuring him. The bullet was extracted by Dr. Holmes to whose home the wounded man was taken for treatment. Schmitt fired the shot upon the refusal of the men to cease their labors, he declaring that he was in such a highly nervous condition that the hammering on the water pipes drove him to desperation.

Owing to his physical condition, Schmitt is not able to be taken from his home but is a prisoner there under the careful watch of a policeman.

Ran for Lives.

All of the pipe-layers dropped their tools and made for places of safety upon the shot being fired. They did not resume their labors until the arrival of a policeman. It was learned that after shooting the watchman, Schmitt had staggered back into his sleeping apartment and had collapsed from excitement. He was unable to make an explanation of the affair this morning. His wife, who regrets the hasty action of her husband, fears that Schmitt will not survive his present condition. For months past he has been growing steadily worse and has arrived at such a state of mind that the least disturbance seems to unbalance his mind.

GREAT WAVE IN CALM SEA

Norwegian Tramp Steamer Nearly Turns Complete Somersault During What Must Have Been a Submarine Earthquake.

NEW YORK, May 26.—A single great wave directly in front of her bow almost wrecked the Norwegian tramp steamer Joseph K. Cuno, on a cruise from Port Antonio, Jamaica, which she has just finished.

"We were in a perfectly calm sea," said Captain Aamdt, in quarantine, "on a sunny day, when suddenly a wall of water thirty feet high reared in front of our bow and pitched us up and up until I thought we would never stop. Almost a Somersault.

"We almost turned a somersault. A second wave lifted us as high again but this time we kept level. That was all, except hundreds of dead fish floated on the surface as we steamed away."

He thinks the waves were caused by a submarine earthquake. The ship was not harmed.

BIG HOUSE WITNESSES

"THE SERPENT'S STING"

An enthusiastic audience last night saw produced for the first time in this city "The Serpent's Sting." The production was all that could be desired and caused many comments, especially the explosion at the end of the third act, which was very realistic. The play abounds throughout with comedy and many trying situations.

Pietro Losso as the crazed and wronged husband was good. Al Haller portrayed the part of the serpent and as usual his acting was of first water. Max Steine was better than ever. The comedy roles were filled by Porter and William Deal and their antics in dress suits in the last act upset the house with laughter. Miss Thornton had the role of the heroine and was very pretty. The rest of the company did well and the production was staged admirably.

WEST OAKLAND MAN VICTIM OF A THUG

Henry Kergustane Found Lying Unconscious on a Sidewalk in San Francisco.

(Special to The Tribune.)

SAN FRANCISCO, May 26.—Henry Kergustane, a clerk, who lives in West Oakland, was found in an unconscious condition on the sidewalk at Pacific and Dupont streets at 4 o'clock this morning, by Policeman Collins of the Central Station, and taken to the Central Emergency Hospital for treatment.

Beaten by Thug

When the man regained consciousness later in the day he said he had been held up by a lone highwayman, who followed him for some distance and then struck him on the back of the head, felling him to the ground.

He maintains that after the thug had searched him and found he had no money he administered another beating and fled. Kergustane has several severe lacerations and contusions of the head and scalp, and a possible fracture of the skull. He is being held for observation.

SAYS HE WAS HIT WITH CONTROLLER BAR

(Special to The Tribune.)

SAN FRANCISCO, May 26.—James Draper, a termor of 788 Silver avenue, reported to Policeman J. J. Casey last evening that he had had a dispute on a San Bruno avenue car over the payment of a fare, and that the motorman had struck him over the head with a controller bar. The officer escorted the man to Young's drugstore at San Bruno and Fulton avenues, where his wounds were dressed but as he refused to swear to a complaint against his assailant, the motorman was not arrested.

DIES AS RESULT OF COLLISION WITH CAR

(Special to The Tribune.)

SAN FRANCISCO, May 26.—Harry Tucker, the aged blacksmith who was knocked from his wagon by a Mission street car near Ocean View early yesterday morning, died at St. Mary's hospital at 5 a. m. as the result of the injuries he sustained.

Tucker was 62 years old and lived with his family at 37 Farallone street.

Five Days More to Make Your Choice in Fourth Avenue Terrace Extension

- You know and we know that the advertisements of real estate firms are often exaggerated and misleading, and that public confidence in statements in advertisements is more or less shaken.
- Therefore, in our advertisements of our new tract, FOURTH AVENUE TERRACE EXTENSION, we mean to UNDERSTATE rather than OVESTATE the facts about this property, so that no man who is led to visit this property by our advertisements will suffer the slightest disappointment.
- We shall say about this tract not what we GUESS or IMAGINE but what we KNOW.
- And we KNOW this: That among all the tracts that we have placed on the market none is more beautiful, none a greater satisfaction to us to offer for sale than this same FOURTH AVENUE TERRACE EXTENSION.
- If you know Piedmont, if you know Piedmont-by-the-Lake, or any of our superior residence tracts, you will appreciate what it means when we say seriously that this new tract of ours which we shall place on sale FOR THE FIRST TIME AT 2 30 DECORATION DAY is as good as or better than any of them.
- It has the view, it has the climate, it will have the fine hard streets, cement walks and other artificial features that have made our tracts famous for their good appearance; and, furthermore, it has the very remarkable advantage from an investor's viewpoint of having TWO NEW ELECTRIC LINES—the Fourth Avenue car line to be completed within a few weeks and the Key Route extension, which will run directly through the tract.
- We consider that this feature alone absolutely assures very large profits to each man who buys.
- We advise every man who reads this advertisement, if he has the faintest notion of buying a residence lot anywhere, not to let twenty-four hours pass before he sees this property.
- It costs nothing to look at it, while, on the other hand, it may mean the beginning of a very profitable investment or a home of which you will be proud all your life.
- We want you to read a few of these letters selected from among many that we have on file, and see for yourself how ABSOLUTELY SAFE and LARGELY PROFITABLE investments with us are.

WICKHAM HAVENS INCORPORATED
1212 Broadway, Oakland, Cal.
Dear Sirs: After a careful survey of the various residence sections of Oakland and vicinity the Fourth Avenue Terrace district impressed me as absolutely the most desirable one in which to purchase. The climate is so delightful, the transportation so good, with three car lines in easy distance, and the general public interest in the district is so great that it can not help but be a profitable investment.

My own house is nearly complete, showing my faith in the tract, and you are emphatically showing your good faith by the rapidity with which you are fulfilling your promises regarding street work and streetcar extension. I am, yours very truly,
CHESTER S. PARKER.

Gentlemen: Fourth Avenue Terrace is the most active residence district I know of. About six months ago I bought two lots there for a residence, but as I was offered a handsome profit I have sold both lots and am anxiously waiting for the new tract which I hear you will soon put on the market.

These lots overlooking the Park are delightfully located. Kindly let me know when they are ready for sale.

Yours very truly,
F. J. LEWIS.

Gentlemen: In reference to my purchase in Fourth Avenue Terrace, I am pleased to state that the investment has already proven itself extremely profitable. Though I bought my lots only a few months ago, I have already disposed of one at a substantial advance, and the tremendous improvements you are rushing through to enhance the value of the tract have convinced me that the best move I can make is to hold the other as a permanent investment.

Yours very truly,

Gentlemen: I am in receipt of your letter concerning investments in the new extension to Fourth Avenue Terrace Tract, and although I have already purchased a lot, No 24 and part of 25, in the original subdivision, I hope to secure one as good in the extension. The lot I have has considerably increased in value within the last eight months and with the building of the Key Route line through the district I expect the property to become a most profitable investment. Hoping you will be able to make me as good a price on a lot in the extension as you did in the former purchase, I am, very truly yours,

Dear Sirs: Having bought in Fourth Avenue Terrace as an investor, I take this means of expressing to you my great satisfaction with the proposition. The growth of the district has surpassed my greatest expectations and I know already of a number of owners who have refused a substantial profit on their investments, feeling sure that there will be a still further advance in values in the near future.

Thanking you for the courtesy with which you have always treated me, I remain, yours very truly,

Gentlemen: In response to your inquiry as to how I am satisfied with my purchase in Fourth Avenue Terrace, I want to say that I am very pleased, indeed, with my buy. The climate, the view, the transportation facilities and all make it an ideal place.

Before making my purchase I spent a good deal of time looking at lots in and around Oakland, Berkeley and Fruitvale, and I am satisfied that my lot is in the finest tract that's for sale. I am especially pleased at the amount of building that is going on in the tract. With construction going on at this rate values are bound to increase very rapidly.

Very sincerely yours,

Gentlemen: Referring to my recent purchase of lot 22 block "D" Fourth Avenue Terrace, upon which I expect to build in the near future, I take pleasure in stating for the benefit of those who may be looking for an ideal spot for a home that after devoting considerable time to looking over the various properties on this side of the bay, I finally decided upon Fourth Avenue Terrace as being the very best—price, climate, elevation, streetcar service, etc., considered.

These advantages, coupled with the fact that we soon will have the Key Route practically at our door, and a fine school directly upon the property make this without question one of the most desirable residence districts in the city of Oakland.

NATURE AND A WOMAN'S WORK

LYDIA E. PINKHAM

Nature and a woman's work combined have produced the grandest remedy for woman's ills that the world has ever known.

In the good old-fashioned days of our grandmothers they relied upon the roots and herbs of the field to cure disease and mitigate suffering.

The Indians on our Western Plains to-day can produce roots and herbs for every ailment, and cure diseases that baffled the most skilled physicians who have spent years in the study of drugs.

From the roots and herbs of the field Lydia E. Pinkham more than thirty years ago gave to the women of the world a remedy for their peculiar ills, more potent and efficacious than any combination of drugs.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is now recognized as the standard remedy for woman's ills.

Mrs. Bertha Muff, of 515 N. C. St., Louisiana, Mo., writes:

"Complete restoration to health means so much to me that for the sake of other suffering women I am willing to make my troubles public.

"For twelve years I had been suffering with the worst forms of female ills. During that time I had eleven different physicians without help. No tongue can tell what I suffered, and at times I could hardly walk. About two years ago I wrote Mrs. Pinkham for advice. I followed it, and can truly say that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Mrs. Pinkham's advice restored health and strength. It is worth mountains of gold to suffering women."

What Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound did for Mrs. Muff, it will do for other suffering women.

URGES NECESSITY FOR NEW CHARTER

Councilman Elliot Addresses the Piedmont Improvement Association on Matters of Municipal Moment.

Councilman A. H. Elliott addressed the Piedmont Improvement Club last night in the Plymouth Congregational church. W. Hamilton, in the absence of Dr. O. E. Edwards, president of the club, acted as chairman of the evening.

"The county government shall go," said President Elliott in addressing the club on "A Better Government for Oakland."

"In our public affairs we are lagging far behind. We are far in advance in our private affairs."

Charter Made in 1889.

"The time our charter was framed, 1889, the citizens knew little or nothing of government. The charter was made for Oakland years ago and has grown out of it. Oakland is ridiculous in the present charter. The system cannot be made to produce anything."

"Do away with the system of electing councilmen by wards. It is as old as the hills. It is worked out particularly bad in Oakland. Councilmen, in order to get what they want, are forced to do anything."

"That the affairs of the city should be carried on by eleven men is a business absurdity. The city is nothing but a gigantic political corporation. The city councilmen are the managers of the affairs of the city of Oakland."

Suggested Reform.

"The city should be managed by five or seven people elected by the people and from the people. Give these men remunerative salaries so that they may devote their entire time, brain and energy to the corporation. We want specialists at the head of the departments and they should be represented in the city council. The mayor should preside over the city council. He should not vote except where his vote is necessary, and should sit as the president of the council and veto any measure right then and there."

Educational Department.

"Our educational department would be difficult to improve upon. I wish all other departments were as good."

Speaking of initiative and referendum he said:

"I believe franchises should be submitted to the people, or stockholders. I don't favor granting franchises for more than twenty-five or thirty years. Recall should be a part of the new charter. We must have a new charter, and see if we can come to our business sense. We can't amend our old charter. We can reduce the tax rate 50 per cent if formed in one government."

"We want scientific laws. The principle of the initiative should be limited on the ground that there are too many laws and that instead of devoting unlimited time to the consideration of laws suggested by citizens the commissioners should be compelled to enforce the laws already enacted."

Death in Hospital.

(Special to The Tribune.)

SAN FRANCISCO, May 26.—In the course of a quarrel over a game of billiards in the Japanese hotel at 533 DuPont street at 1:15 this morning, Lui O'Kada, a porter, living at 1216 Jones street, was hit over the head with a heavy hammer and received injuries which may cause his death.

O'Kada was playing with T. Inoue when a dispute arose over the number of points which the former had made. One word followed another and O'Kada says his companion picked up a hammer from a table near by and struck him on the head. He remembers no more until he regained consciousness at the Central Emergency Hospital two hours later.

Police men Meredith and Welch of the Central station made a search through Chinatown for Inoue this morning, but were unable to locate him. They expect, however, to arrest their man this evening.

STAFFORD'S RESIGNATION A LOSS TO THE BOXING GAME

Berger Has Nothing Resembling a June Attraction in Sight—Gans Has Asked McFarland to Meet Him.

BY EDDIE SMITH.

With a resignation of W. G. Stafford as a member of the supervisors and chairman of the police committee the boxing game will lose a staunch supporter and a man who evidently had only the good of the game at heart in the strictest sense of the word.

From the very start Stafford placed himself on record as saying that he wanted only three clubs to handle the sport in San Francisco, giving as his reason that the supervisors should give each promoter at least four shows in a year in which to get something out of the game himself through fair and legal means.

At the same time the board reserved the right to reject the application of any promoter who did not do the right thing by the public.

This ruling was not one of the shallow political warnings that are sometimes handed out by men in power, for one of the promoters who advertised a fight at a certain price and then raised the price when he thought he had the people where they would pay any price, was called to account and it is understood it took more than a little explaining to get another chance.

Stafford's Statement

Stafford went on record from the first meeting of the committee by saying: "I like the boxing game and believe that the people who are fond of the sport should have it, but I want to go on record right now as saying that the game must be handled in the right manner or I shall immediately vote to suppress it. The boxing game is a fine sport when properly handled, but fake contests will not be allowed while I am on the committee."

He has stuck by his word at all times and although some may have their differences with the ex-supervisor regarding permits or other favors, the game has been a good friend, and those who are interested in the sport as a sport and who do not care for the other angles regarding the fights between promoters, will be sorry to hear of his resignation.

Who will be Mr. Stafford's successor on the committee or what difference the change will make in the promotion of the sport is unknown at the present time, but it is understood he will be named in a few days, which fact will greatly relieve the anxious members of the new trust. No doubt others with an idea that there is a world of money in the promotion of boxing contests will try to break into the game and the Ariel Rowing Club will no doubt again make a bid for a permit.

Berger Still Silent.

Sam Berger has nothing new regarding a contest for the month of June in sight, but is seriously considering the putting on of two ten round contests and three six-round preliminaries. Berger is determined to either sign what he considers a good card or pass the men of reputation up for a series of contests between young fellows who are coming. For the writer's part a contest between youngsters who are forgoing to the front always looks better than one between men who have shot their bolt and who are on the chute to the pugilistic graveyard.

Nelson in Theatricals.

Papa Willie Britt expected Battling Nelson down from Seattle yesterday, but the Dane did not put in an appearance and William began to worry over the whereabouts of his wandering fighter. He received a wire late yesterday informing him that the Battler had accepted an engagement at the Star theater at Seattle for a few days and, of course, Willie had no objections.

The proud father is a very busy man these days, but if you should meet him and want to get him mad just ask: "How long will it take Gans to beat Nelson, Willie?"

The answer to this question will be: "In the Goldenfield fight Nelson was standing on his feet ready to continue when Mr. Gans was on the floor claiming foul, and take it from me, Nelson will again bring him down and make him like it." That is enough to do but he is foolish enough to argue further for Willie is somewhat of a fighter himself and it will not do to get him mad.

Gans Wants McFarland.

Joe Gans stopped off at Chicago for the purpose of signing up a contest with Packey McFarland, if possible, but the youngster did not put in an appearance at the agreed time and place where the fighters were to meet.

Gans wants to fight McFarland this fall and would like to make it the ninth of September attraction in San Francisco. McFarland, however, is none too anxious to meet Gans until he has had a chance to size the old warrior up in a contest with Gaston Nelson and for that reason nothing may be done until after Joe and Nelson have met.

Cricketers Play On Alameda Field

A very pleasant day was spent at the Alameda grounds Sunday by the players.

On looking around one saw nearly all the old pioneers of the game present, men who have nursed the game from its birth in California to its present growing popularity.

The weather being very fine and the pitch excellent the two teams, captained by Charles Banner and Mr. Ward Sr., took the field, the former team batting first.

An intermission was called at 1:30 p. m. for luncheon.

A speech was made by Mr. Ward Sr., who made a very enthusiastic address, urging that greater interest be taken by the fans of the game in California and completed his oration by promising hearty support of the old young men's younger colleagues of the rising generation in furthering the promotion of the game in this State.

Charles Banner, another old-timer, made an address, followed by Mr. Alken and Mr. Theobald. Toasts were made and everybody went back to the field feeling more than compensated for the hard forenoon's exercise.

Mr. Ward's team then batted and made a very fine showing, and under the name "Banner-Ward" rule making it possible for every man to score at least three runs all had their names on the list of scorers.

After a very interesting game Mr. Ward's team gained a decisive victory.

The scores are as follows:

SAN FRANCISCO, May 26.—There will be some good boxing at the tournament under the auspices of the Pacific Athletic Association to take place in the Ballroom Club gymnasium next Monday night.

The affair is for the purpose of raising funds to assist in sending the American track team to London in July. A tryout select talent for the matches was held in the Olympic Club gymnasium last night at which some very likely boys put in an appearance. Tomorrow evening another tryout will be made and all boxers desiring to compete on Monday across the bay are requested by Nick Frazzetta to put in appearance.

Eddie Lynch, Harry Birmingham, Willie Roach and Hughey Quinn are among those entered, while the Reliance Club and the St. Patrick Indians are yet to be heard from. Matt A. Harris of the Olympic Club, who has officiated at all of the recent amateur shows, will referee. Geo. James and Bert Kerrigan acting as judges.

The W. P. Fuller & Company baseball team played two games Sunday. In the morning they defeated the employees in the Fuller's store, by a score of 25 to 4.

The feature of the game was the pitching of Eisen, striking out eighteen and walking one.

In the afternoon they played and lost to the Hub.

The line-up is as follows: Lincoln, catcher; Purdy and Eisen, pitchers; Rowlands, first base; F. Smith, second base; G. Smith, short stop; Bartram, third base; Markovitz, right field; Roy Fingree, center field, and E. Bulski, left field.

Address all challenges to Clem Bonanza, 1400 Franklin street, Oakland.

BY T. P. MAGILLIGAN.

ALTHOUGH TOMMY BURNS was the big noise in England shortly more than a fortnight ago, he rises up in such a small package now that the biggest microscope in the London Lancet office cannot make out what sort of a microbe pugilistic he really is.

Barring a few of the sure thing boys in England your Englishman is a true sportsman and he won't stand for any $30,000 honorarium guarantee in advance, win, lose, draw or Barney.

Recently Jack Johnson, a coal-miner American, went to England and demanded a match with Burns. The Englishmen believed that Tommy would take on the "smoke" on some fair terms. But the Caribou pulled his line about the thirty thousand dollar guarantee, no matter what happened and London gasped at his audacity.

Johnson's Stand.

Johnson manfully insisted that he would agree to no such terms and insisted that the big slice of the money fall heir to the winner. English papers gave Johnson the credit of a fair hearing with the result that the despised black man is now a hero.

Right now Tommy is not receiving any more rosin blue bids to fashionable mix-ups while the king himself, has been stung on outside stall to fight Tommy any time he tries to agitate the bell at Windsor Castle too much.

Prince to Dub.

From prince to dub in a few weeks is a leap that will make Tommy the one best bet for the broad jump at the Olympic games.

Burns has no one but himself to blame, either. His defense is that he is out for the money. Phew! Out for the money. That's the spirit of the captain of industry, who have himmed their way into the fight game in the last decade. The element of sport and fairness in their making wouldn't be large enough to make a noise if it were wrapped up in a mustard seed.

The Olden Days.

In the olden days fighters would risk something on their own account, but now you have to slip it to them in advance or they won't go on.

Under such circumstances does anyone wonder why old John L. Sullivan is still the pugilistic idol, and the ideal of sportsmen. When the big fellow was working at his trade it was not a case of sordid commercialism with him. The slogan of the great John L. was "winner take all." After the Sullivan era followed the Corbitts, the Ryans, the O'Briens, the Brittles, the Nelsons, and, in test, the Burnses, who have always been financiers and merely did a little fighting on the side as a stall.

As Cockney O'Brien would put it: "In the rare old, fair old, golden days it was never thus."

Ginger Wanted Here.

Oakland's baseball team will be back on their own half-track at Freeman's Park with a series of games against Los Angeles, which begins today.

It behooves the Athenians to get a hump on them and play somewhat of a different sort of baseball than has been stung on outside stall to fight Tommy any time he tries to agitate the bell at Windsor Castle too much.

The Oakland fans are up in arms over the stupid "draw your pay" sort of game that these myrmidons of baseball have been putting on against their opponents.

Oakland is a better team than Los Angeles and should win the rubber in the series. But to win from Los Angeles they will have to play baseball, not play at baseball. Dillon gets the most out of his men. Van Halten should do the same. It's up to the Oakland team to put some ginger on tape in the coming series.

From Australia comes the word that the Kangaroo promoters want Tommy Burns to meet their countryman Lang. When this bit of choice news doled out, merrime and merrime on its way across and here the Australian colony set up and wondered.

One Australian wondered if the Lang the Kangaroo promoters want Burns to meet is the Mori Lang. And he added this such a case. The case of the Australians had better dig up Jim Macs, reassemble Ned O'Baldwin or get some other dead one or has-been to meet Tommy.

The Australian declares that if it is the Lang that he knew in the Antipodes that he would be a more fit subject for the old man's home than he is for the ring.

Australia is a far way off and the local Australian, who spoke of Lang, may be wrong, but from the way that Burns has been picking the soft ones there is a chance that it is old man Lang that Tommy has in mind.

Anent Jim Barry.

Jim Barry, the big Chicago heavyweight, who is coming along with such great strides, is matched to meet Tony Ross at Newcastle, Pa., on the night of May 30. Barry seems to be an in and out, but when he is right he looks to be about the best of the present crop of heavies.

He recently put to sleep the aspirations of Jim Stewart of Brooklyn, who dubbed the new Jim Corbett of the ring. Barry walloped Joe Jeannette. The big Chicago boy suffered a reverse at the hands of Sam Langford recently, but when he is fighting right he looks pretty good and if he defeats Tony Ross at Newcastle he might make a good card for one of the San Francisco clubs.

Some man of calibre in the heavyweight division could be gotten to oppose him.

CALEDONIAN GAMES FOR SATURDAY ARE ATTRACTING MUCH ATTENTION

Local athletes are taking more than common interest in the forthcoming gathering and games of the Caledonian Club which will be held at Shell Mound Park next Saturday, Decoration Day. The ordinary run of sports held at Shell Mound does not attract anything better than fourth raters but the Caledonian games have always been most pretentious affairs and the prizes offered are the most valuable ever put up by any local organization, apart from regular athletic clubs.

The class of the meet can be estimated when it is stated that such well known athletes as Glarner, Gerhardt, King, Snodgrass and Buckley will compete for the Davis family prize in this part of the State and at least two of them are holders of world's records. Glarner broke the 900 yards record lately and Gerhardt is the junior champion of the United States. McNamee and Block will also enter for the sprints.

A special two mile race is one of the best items on the program and King and Connelly should have a baton race for first place with Garcia and a relay race between the Olympic Club and the Irish-American Club is creating a great deal of interest as the Irish men are thirsting for revenge after their defeat by the club boys last Sunday at Schuetzen Park.

Valuable prizes have been offered the professional athletes and there will be many local competitions for the money. All the other attractions which go to make a Scotch picnic an all day pleasure will be seen and the humble citizen of the United States will see the brow Scotchmen with their kilts and bagpipes and the Highland fling.

UNCLE SAM'S SHIPS WILL ATTACK A MONITOR

NORFOLK, Va., May 26.—Everything is in readiness for the gunnery tests to which the monitor Florida is to be subjected in lower Chesapeake bay tomorrow when she becomes a target for heavy firing from the turrets of her sister ship, the monitor Arkansas, and is to be shot up under the water by the torpedo boat Morris.

Battleships Gather for Fray.

All the vessels that are to participate in the novel experiment are in Hampton Roads, having left the Norfolk yard yesterday.

Commander Quimby and his men have full faith in the ability of their ship to withstand serious damage from the guns of the Arkansas and they have no doubt of the repelling by the "torpedo net" of the torpedoes that will be shot at her by the Morris. It will be a testing of the armor plate of the ship and the ability of that class of vessel to withstand heavy firing from modern guns as well as the marksmanship of those doing the firing.

Volunteers on Monitor.

Practically all of those who will occupy hazardous positions on the Florida are volunteers who offered their services when the call went out from the navy department. The tests are being watched with great interest, not only here but by the officials at Washington as well as by foreign representatives.

KENTUCKY JUDGE BOTHERS ATTORNEY

Friends Plead for Leniency for Man Charged With Passing Bad Check.

District Attorney Brown stated this morning that he desired to have the case of C. G. Ritchie, the Kentucky judge, who is charged with passing a fictitious check, settled as soon as possible, as he said that he was constantly bothered by friends who came to him and asked him to be lenient with Ritchie. The defendant pleaded guilty last week and an investigation as to his sanity is now being made. Judge Ogden this morning continued the matter until next Monday, when Ritchie will be up for sentence. It is likely that at that time testimony will be given concerning his sanity or insanity.

EDUARDO TAKES DISTANCE AFFAIR FROM SAN ALVISO

Spreckels' Trick Loses by Head in Final Jump—Burning Bush Proves Good Repeater in Final Sprint.

BY LEE DEMIER.

Two clever sprint affairs brightened today's featureless racing program at Williams Park. The other four events consisted of big or ordinary fields, two being races for two-year-olds. A big crowd was on hand and more than held its own with the bookies.

Yada, the odds on choice, was much the best in the opening sprint, and experienced little difficulty in holding the lead throughout. Bernardo was well placed and easily took the place from Berryessa, the 100 to 1 chance.

Michael, the choice in the second race, stopped badly when the final sprint came, and allowed Altamir to come and win handsly. Decorator was the distant third.

With the advantage of the strongest ride at the finish, Mental Anguish out-gallop the favorite by a head at the wire, and grabbed the decision by a nose. Hannah Louise, the choice, had to be content with the show.

Five shifty mares went to the post in the seven-furlong dash, fourth on the card. Edward won the race in a good position the first part of the race, but when he came to the front he was out of the race. He was out of the race when he came to the front.

Purse Rose, the rank, got into the paddock, then closed with a tremendous burst of speed and disposed of the field. Silver Lark, the other two, quit badly after going six furlongs.

In a nip-and-tuck finish Eduardo gamely stood a hard drive and defeated San Alviso, the favorite, by a head at the wire in the fifth. The Spreckels horse set a sizzling pace till the final strides, then checked it up. Ned ran a nice race and easily beat the others for the show.

Burning Bush ran right back to his last race and won the race in a good position the first part of the race, but when he came to the front he was out of the race. He was out of the race when he came to the front.

Official Announcer Robert McGibbon said he will be in New York with bells on Brooklyn Handicap day.

Joe M. Murphy, who can tip the scales at 88 pounds, will be seen in the saddle at the West Oakland Club Thursday night, and from present indications, a good crowd will be on hand when the boys enter the ring.

$500 DAMAGES FOR RIGHT OF WAY

St. Michael's Church, Livermore, Awarded Much Less Than
Was Asked For.

The Roman Catholic archbishop was awarded $500 for a right of way through the property of St. Michael's church at Livermore by a jury in Superior Judge Melvin's court last night in the matter of the condemnation suit brought by the Western Pacific Company. The churchmen claimed that the cutting of a right of way by the railroad company through their property would destroy the location for church purposes. The church asked for $37,500, claiming that this amount would be necessary to move the church and school to another location.

Risking Your Sight

You take grave risk when you entrust your sight to those without experience, without proper equipment, and of whose competence you have no guarantee.

As far as experience, equipment and guarantees can protect you, you are protected when you get your glasses here. Everything in the way of machinery that ample capital can secure is to be found in our factories. Our opticians are the most expert adjusters in the country. In some cases, as in the Kryptok (a far-and-near glass made without conspicuous seams or pieces glued on) we even melt the glass for each customer so that the lenses may be as perfect as scientific discovery and human ingenuity can render them.

PANGS OF HUNGER DROVE THIS LAD TO BURGLARY

Emaciated Youth Confesses to Robbing the Senardo Postoffice

Seventeen-year-old Henry Stapf, pale-faced and emaciated, surrendered himself at police headquarters last night, confessing to the burglary of the postoffice at Senardo, California, some months ago he having stolen $2 in coin, a hat which he wore last night, a quantity of scented soaps and twenty letters, none of which he claims contained negotiable paper.

Tortured by Clams. Young Stapf claims that since the burglary he has been unable to sleep with any degree of comfort, that the constant fear of arrest had undermined his constitution and that feeling himself bordering on nervous prostration from the prickings of a guilty conscience, he had finally determined to give himself up to the authorities, believing that in jail he would find a haven of rest for his tortured mind.

Stapf declares that he was driven to crime through want. After breaking into the postoffice and taking the money and other articles, he had opened all the letters within his reach in the hopes that in some of them he would find greenbacks or other articles of value. He left the opened letters in the postoffice and then made his way to San Francisco.

Fear of Arrest. For weeks he was there in constant fear of arrest, making a precarious living by accepting odd jobs. He came to Oakland about a week ago and says he tried to obtain work. During all the time his mind dwelt on his crime and after carefully weighing the consequences of his act, he determined to surrender himself and throw himself on the mercy of the courts.

Stapf is being held in the city prison pending an investigation of his past record. The postoffice officials have been advised of his confession.

MOTHER SEEKING HUSBAND AND CHILD

Mrs. Lacolla Cannot Find Her
Spouse, Who Has Disappeared With Daughter.

Where is little Dorothy Lacolla and her papa? They disappeared on February 28, last, and have not been seen since by the anxious mother and wife, who is making an extended search all over the country for them. Yesterday afternoon Mrs. Lacolla, who resides at 1213 Delaware street, Berkeley, commenced suit for divorce against James Lacolla, a barber. She alleges cruelty, claiming that her husband threatened to shoot her and that he often struck her and slapped her face.

The Lacollas were married in San Jose in December, 1903, and in February last moved to Berkeley. Lacolla is a barber. On February 28, last, he told his wife that he wanted to take their daughter Dorothy, who won first prize in a beauty contest in San Jose, to his brother's home. Lacolla and the child left and since that time have been missing.

Louis XV Henry F. Miller Grand, with Bench to Match ---a Work of Art Never Has a Finer Instrument Been Shown

The graceful case lines with hand carved trusses at once appeal to the artist. The tone is sonorous full, rich and sweet. This instrument is shown by the H. HAUSCHILDT MUSIC CO. during their manufacture reception. They will also, at the end of the week, present to some caller a fine $600 piano, a $75 00 old violin and other prizes, many of which are to be seen in their show window.

You Should Call at Once and Register

Not content with this abundance of liberality, they have adopted the novel expedient of selecting from their large stock twenty (20) Pianos on which they have placed discounts ranging from 20 per cent to 100 per cent. Lists of Pianos and the discounts that apply against each individual instrument is now in the hands of this paper in a sealed envelope.

The Pianos not included in this list are subject to a discount of 10 per cent.

Their stock of Violins, Mandolins and Small Musical Instruments have been handled in a like manner, therefore, during the week, the people musically inclined are offered some exceptional bargains that certainly they will not fail to take advantage of.

That they will dispose of fifty (50) Pianos during the week is a foregone conclusion. Who will the ones fortunate enough to purchase Pianos on which discounts of 20 per cent, 30 per cent, 40 per cent, 50 per cent, 60 per cent, 70 per cent, 80 per cent, 90 per cent or 100 per cent applies, remains to be told in the columns of this paper Sunday morning.

Certainly anyone intending to purchase a Piano at any time within two years should do it now. A 10 per cent discount surely is incentive enough, but when one stops to consider that it might be 100 per cent, how can they afford to wait?

In this sale are included such world renowned makes of high grade Pianos as the Henry F. Miller, Shoninger Newman Bros., A. J. King, Foster, Standard Electric and others too numerous to mention.
